Kirsty & Katie Lawrence wow audiences at the Danny Kyle Stage at Celtic Connections

Together with Andy Walker, Kirsty and Katie Lawrence took to the Danny Kyle Stage at Celtic Connections as 'Breck' and were met with a very positive response. You can hear their set online on Celtic Music Radio:

<http://www.canstream.co.uk/celticmusic/audio/Breck.mp3>

The trio's skill and musicianship drew attention, as did their inimitable banter, as demonstrated in the following review!

"Kirsty and Katie Lawrence – Incredible trad musicians from the Isle of Man. I found their stage presence refreshing and funny."

Ramsey Choral will be holding a Spring Concert on 10 April 2010 at St Paul's Church Ramsey.

They will be performing:

Rutter's 'Requiem'

Tavener's 'The Lamb'

Arvo Part's 'The Beautitudes'.

Rehearsals: Monday 7.30pm, United Reformed Church, Waterloo Rd, Ramsey.

ALL WELCOME!

Cohaglym Celtiagh Eddyrashoonagh International Celtic Congress 2010

The international meeting of the Celtic Congress will return to the Isle of Man this April. Organised by Dr Brian Stowell of the Manx branch, the conference will turn its attention to the theme of inter-Celtic communications. Delegates will be based at the Claremont Hotel on Loch Promenade in Douglas, with registration on Easter Monday 5th April. Anyone can book a place - email Brian on: bstowell@mcb.net

The week's programme includes a gala dinner and ceilidhs each night (all welcome), workshops in Manx song, lectures from all of the Celtic countries as well as excursions around the Island. There will also be an ecumenical service at Loch Promenade Methodist Centre on Thursday 8th April at 3pm featuring music from Caarjyn Cooidjagh. That evening there will be a young people's concert at 8pm, again at Loch Promenade Methodist Centre, featuring music from Beccy Hurst, Mike Boulton's groups and from the Bree trad youth music movement. The final evening features another concert at Loch Promenade at 8pm.

Visiting musicians and singers include South Uist's Sineag Nic an t-Saoir (MacIntyre), who won the Gold Medal at the Mod 2009 and who performed with Maggie MacInnes at last year's Cooish festival. Another familiar face is Máire Ní Choilm, a wonderful sean nos singer from Gweedore who enchanted Cooish audiences a few years ago. The musical riches don't stop there - they will be joined by Dublin harp player Brenda Ní Ríordáin, singer Moe Kease (Cornwall) and singer-songwriter Tecwyn Ifan (Wales).

DATES for your diary:

All at Loch Promenade Methodist Centre:

Thursday 8th

3pm Ecumenical service

8pm Young people's concert (£3, children free)

Friday 9th

Concert featuring Sineag Nic an t-Saoir, Tecwyn Ifan, Máire Ní Choilm, Brenda Ní Ríordáin, Moe Kease & the Mollag Band, 8pm (£4, children free)

Manx Music Summer Season call for performers!

Jan Cowan from IOM Arts Council would love to hear from Manx bands and dance groups who would like to take part in the 2010 Manx Music Summer Season. Taking place in the Villa Marina Arcade in Douglas, the gigs are on Thursday evenings in July and August, starting at 8pm and usually involving at least two groups each night. The season is a great opportunity to bring Manx music and dance into a different venue and to a mixture of tourists and Manx residents.

The dates for this year are:

JULY 1st, 8th, 15th, 22nd & 29th

AUGUST 5th, 12th, 19th, 26th

Please contact Jan Cowan with as many available dates as possible by Monday 8 March:

Manx Folk Dancing in Australia Report from Margaret Kenning

The Hunter Welsh Folk Dancers will be performing & holding short workshops at two of Australia's largest Celtic Festivals this year, which to my knowledge will be the first time these dances have been performed in Australia.

In May we are dancing at the Australian Celtic Festival in Glen Innes, NSW (where the Australian Standing Stones are). This festival is held over three days in May each year with a different Celtic Country is featured each year. 2010 is the year of the Manx and we are very excited to be dancing there, we have been going to Glen Innes for over twelve years, dancing Welsh & Cornish.

In June we are off to The National Celtic Festival in Portarlington, Victoria to perform and hold workshops - this will be our first time for this festival.

We are busy organising Manx Dance costumes and will send some pics from these festivals.

Yn Chruinnaght Inter-Celtic Festival has an exciting line-up for this summer: already confirmed are Beoga (N. Ireland), Dalla (Cornwall) and Emily Smith (Scotland) plus a Welsh clogging duo... www.ynchruinnaght.com

THE MANX SCALLOP DANCE – WHATEVER NEXT!

TERRY CRINGLE DISCOVERED THESE LINKS ONLINE TO THE DARTINGTON MORRIS MEN PERFORMING THE MANX SCALLOP DANCE TO AN ADAPTED VERSION OF “KELLY FROM THE ISLE OF MAN”

THEIR WEBSITE SAYS THAT THE SCALLOP DANCERS WERE RECRUITED FROM THE EMPLOYEES OF THE LAXEY MINE, AND LINKS BETWEEN THIS DANCE AND DANCES FROM THE BACUP AREA OF LANCASHIRE MAY HAVE BEEN THROUGH ECONOMIC MIGRATION. OR WAS IT THAT THEY JUST HAD A BETTER SENSE OF HUMOUR BACK THEN?!

Throwing themselves off a cliff...for fun?! Manx Folk Dance Society raise money in sponsored abseil

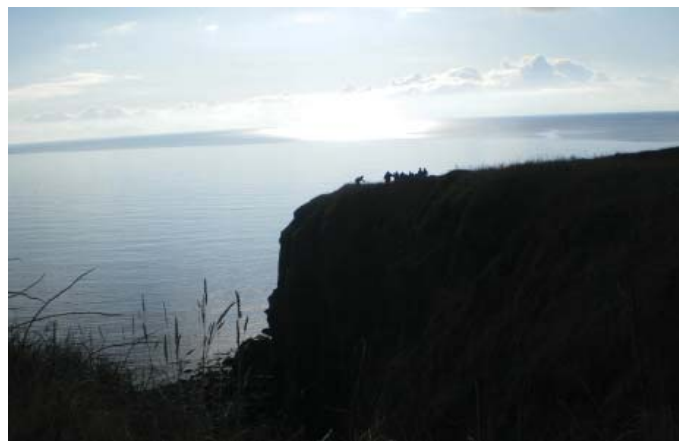

Report from Mo Robinson

Congratulations and well done to all that took part in the Sponsored Abseil on Saturday 20th February to Raise funds towards the 2011 International Festival. It was a very different way to spend a Saturday morning, hanging from a rope off Maughold Head. The weather conditions were just perfect the snow had stopped and it was brilliant sunshine and more importantly there were no off-shore winds. Ten Brave Manx Folk successfully abseiled down the cliff near to Maughold lighthouse under the supervision of four trained climbers from the Maughold Venture Centre. The climb back up the slippery mud-filled gully with ropes proved to be another challenge as well.

For more information regarding the festival or if you would like to donate please contact Treasurer Freda Black on tel 624858.

SUCCESSFUL WORKSHOP WEEKEND

Around fifty people attended six workshops in Scottish traditional music, song and dance organised by the Manx Heritage Foundation at the beginning of February. Led by award-winning performers Joy Dunlop and Rachel Hair, the workshops for adults included solo and choral singing in Scottish Gaelic, solo harp and harp accompaniment, step and ceilidh dancing. A special harp workshop for under 16s was also organised to meet the growing demand for harp tuition on the Island.

One of the great things about the weekend was that there was a real mix of people at the sessions – beginners and more experienced singers and dancers – which created a relaxed atmosphere. Songs taught included 'Buain a' Choirce' and 'Sine Bhàn', whilst harp players picked up Calum Stewart's beautiful tune 'Looking at a rainbow through a dirty window'. The dance sessions were very well attended, with Joy testing the dancers with complicated step dance routines before moving to more relaxed mass ceilidh dances.

The workshop weekend concluded with a concert at the Studio Theatre, Ballakermeen, featuring members of The Reeling Stones and Ny Fennee dance group as well as performances from Joy and Rachel.

BREE FIDDLE SCHOOL

During the Spring half term, Bree held a fiddle school led by tutor Katie Lawrence. Using Manx tunes The Tiger and The Cuckoo along with a waltz and two reels from the wider Celtic repertoire, the young violinists spent the day focussing on bowing techniques and ornamentation, learning by ear, creating harmonies and using improvisation, and playing sets as an ensemble. The group performed for family and friends at the end of the workshop.

The next Bree session will take place from 3 - 4.30pm at Greens in Douglas on Saturday 13th March. The following month, the session will be part of the Shennaghys Jiu youth festival and will take place at Ramsey Town Hall at 3pm on Saturday 3rd April.

Manx music roadshow with King Chiaulee

Last month, Manx instrumental group King Chiaulee and dancers John Kilgallon and Ali Carroon performed a two day tour of the Island's six secondary schools. Organised by Chloë for the Manx Heritage Foundation, the aim of each mini-concert was to complement the Key Stage 3 scheme of work on Manx music. In-between their lively sets which got all of the students and teachers clapping along, the lads described how they had originally formed the band at St. Ninian's High School 12 years ago, talked about their instruments, explained the difference between jigs and reels, and discussed how they learn tunes by ear and compose their own Manx music. The musicians and dancers got an enthusiastic reception from each of the schools, but at Ballakermeen High School, John's performance of Gorse Sticks received both an encore and standing ovation!

Dr Chloë Woolley is the Manx Music Specialist for the Manx Heritage Foundation. She works closely with Maggie Richardson of Music Services to ensure support of Manx music in the school curriculum: manxmusicspecialist@mhf.org.im
